CALIFORNIA WELCOMES THE WORLD TO SAN FRANCISCO

LAW BOOK

CATALOG

The Keynote

in the use of judicial precedents was sounded in this country with the publication of the American Decisions and American Reports, the first volumes of which appeared almost forty years ago.

The selected case idea placed within the reach of a large number of lawyers the most valuable decisions of all the courts of last resort throughout the Nation, and enabled the courts of each State to know more fully what had been decided in other States.

The annotated case idea showed the relation of one case to another and has done much to promote uniformity, harmonize the law throughout the country and to prevent possible discord from the growth of local peculiarities.

These ideas are embodied in the "great four" sets of American Case Law, known as "Quadrinity," comprised as follows:

American Decisions, 1760-1869

American Reports, 1869-1886

American State Reports, 1886-1911

American Annotated Cases

(Cited Ann. Cas. 1912 A et seq.)

Unity, coherence, good judgment in selection, clearness and accuracy of statement, careful and exhaustive annotation, and excellence of workmanship have, from the first, placed this series beyond the reach of successful competition.

A Grateful Acknowledgment
To an Honorable Profession

It is with a sense of deep gratitude that I write these few lines to the members of the profession of the law.

2^d Honor, 2^d Part

The profession of the law is one of the most honorable and useful in our country. It is the foundation of our government and the guardian of our rights.

For first to come and second to follow, the profession of the law is the backbone of our society.

It is the duty of every citizen to respect and support the profession of the law.

We are indebted to you for the high standards of integrity and honor that you maintain.

Your services are essential to the well-being of our community and our nation.

Thank you for your dedication and your commitment to the public good.

With sincere appreciation and respect, to the profession of the law.

A Grateful Acknowledgment To an Honorable Profession

On April 18, 1906, the date of the great fire, the legal fraternity of this country was indebted to us in a sum in excess of $200,000. The fire destroyed all of our books of accounts. The lawyers of San Francisco having lost their entire libraries were absolved of their indebtedness to us, amounting to about $30,000.00. This left an amount due from outside lawyers of from $170,000.00 to $175,000.00.

Having no lists of patrons we sent a circular letter to the lawyers named in Martindale's Legal Directory, advising them of our loss and asking for information as to their indebtedness to us. The responses to this circular were so prompt and so gratifying that we think the legal profession should know that of this total indebtedness, of say $175,000.00, nearly $150,000.00 has already been reported to us, and we are receiving advices every day from parties who had not previously answered our circular asking about their indebtedness. It is but right to say that some of the San Francisco attorneys declined to accept the cancellation of their accounts and have paid same. Let it be known to the world that the legal profession is made up of men of the highest honor.

A TRULY Great Lawyer is one of the highest products of civilization. He is a master of the science of human experience. He sells his clients the results of that experience, and is thus the merchant of wisdom. The labors of many generations of legislators and judges enrich his stores. His learning is sufficient to enable him to realize the comparative littleness of all human achievements. He has outlived the ambition of display before courts and juries. He loves justice, law and peace. He has learned to bear criticism without irritation, censure without anger, and calumny without retaliation. He has learned how surely all schemes of evil bring disaster to those who support them, and that the granite shaft of a noble reputation cannot be destroyed by the poisoned breath of slander.

A great lawyer will not do a mean thing for money. He hates vice, and delights to stand forth a conquering champion of virtue. The good opinions of the just are precious in his esteem, but neither love of friends nor fear of foes can swerve him from the path of duty. He esteems his office of counselor as higher than political place or scholastic distinction. He detests unnecessary litigation, and delights in averting danger, and restoring peace by wise counsel and skilful plans. The good works of the counsel-room are sweeter to him than the glories of the forum. He proves that honesty is the best policy and that peace pays both lawyer and client better than controversy. In a legal contest, he will give his client the benefit of the best presentation of whatever points of fact or of law may be in his power, but he will neither pervert the law, nor falsify the facts to defeat an adversary.

The motto of his battle-flag is: "Fidelity to the law and the facts—semper fidelis."
—C. C. BONNEY.

 A standard Pacific Coast form-book.
- Craig's Cases on Water Rights.—Selected Cases on Water Rights and Irrigation Law in California and Western States. By Gavin W. Craig. 1910. 1 vol. Buckram.....net 3 00
 Following the collected case idea that has been so universally adopted by law schools throughout the country, Professor Craig has here brought together in one compact volume the 47 most important cases on this timely subject. As the cases selected are intended for use by those who desire a knowledge of the Law of Water Rights as it exists in the Pacific and some of the semi-arid states of the West, the latest decisions of the courts of these states are presented rather than English, eastern, or older western cases.

Devlin's Treaty-Making Power.—The Treaty Power under the constitution of the United States. Commentaries on the Treaty Clauses of the Constitution; Construction of Treaties; Extent of Treaty-Making Power; Conflict between Treaties and Acts of Congress; State Constitutions and Statutes; International Extradition; Acquisition of Territory; Ambassadors; Naturalization and Expatriation; Responsibility of the Government for Mob Violence, and Claims against Governments. With appendices. By Robert T. Devlin. 1908. 1 vol. Sheep.....net $ 6 00

This work is intended not only for the lawyer, but also for the student of history and the general reader. It contains much historical information of American diplomacy of deep interest to the American citizen both at home and abroad. For instance: Mafia Riots, Japanese School Controversy, Tariff Acts, Parliamentary Procedure, Chinese Exclusion, Aliens, Diplomatic Relations, Naturalization and Expatriation, Claims of Citizens Against Governments, Treaties in Force. Special attention is given to the law relative to International Extradition.

An essentially practical book—not for the research shelves, not a student's text-book, but a volume for constant everyday use by the busy lawyer.

Mr. Jones has given clear and concise treatment to perplexing questions. Among other chapters, those on judgments, presumptions, burden of proof, best evidence, parol evidence and res gestae have been especially commended by lawyers who have tested them in practice.

Lawson on Defenses to Crime.—Defenses to Crime. The Adjudged Cases in the American and English Reports wherein the different defenses to crime are contained. With Notes. 1887–1892. By John D. Lawson. 6 vols. Sheep..... 18 00

These six volumes contain a great deal of material that is still of the utmost importance and not to be found elsewhere. The original price of $36.00 has been cut in half to close out the edition. The main divisions are Self-defense, Insanity and Drunkenness, Disabilities and Nonliability, Crimes against the Public, Crimes against the Persons and Property of Individuals.

Lindley on Mines.—New Edition for early publication.

National Bank Cases.—Containing all decisions of both the Federal and State courts, relating to National Banks. 1864–1889, with Notes and References by Isaac Grant Thompson and Irving Browne. 3 vols. Sheep..... 12 00

Page's California Street Laws.—A Treatise on the General Street Laws of California. Embracing all Statutes up to and including the Acts of 1911, the Provisions of all Municipal Charters, and all Decisions affecting Street Laws, as well as all Rules governing Street Work done under Private Contract. Including about 100 up-to-date Forms and a Complete Index and Table of Cases. Full text of the Statutes given in the Appendix. By E. S. Page. 1911. 1 vol. Buckram.....net 7 50

Pomeroy's Equity.—A Treatise on Equity Jurisprudence as administered in the United States of America; adapted for all the States, and to the union of legal and equitable remedies under the reformed procedure. By John Norton Pomeroy, LL. D. Third edition by John Norton Pomeroy,

What have you to say?

A treatise on Equitable Remedies, supplementary to Pomeroy's Equity Jurisprudence (Interpleader, Receivers, Injunctions, Reformation and Cancellation, Partition, Quieting Title, Specific Performance, Creditors' Suits, Subrogation, Accounting, etc.). By John Norton Pomeroy, Jr., A. M., LL. B. 1905. 2 vols. Sheep or buckram.

Sold only in complete sets. 6 vols.net $36 00

Of the merits of Prof. Pomeroy's original work it is superfluous to speak. The repeated declarations of the highest critics that in importance and influence it is the "greatest American law book," are thoroughly established by the facts. An examination of the current reports shows it to be the most frequently cited text-book on any subject, at the present day and for several years past.

Pomeroy's Equity.—Student's Edition. A treatise on Equity Jurisprudence as administered in the United States of America; adapted for all the States and to the union of legal and equitable remedies under the reformed procedure. Rose's Code of Federal Procedure.—A Code of Federal Procedure. (Superseding Desty's Federal Procedure.) Embodying enactments of Congress, Constitutional Provisions, Established Principles, and Court Rules in force December 1, 1906, and the Bankruptcy Act of 1898, with amendments and orders, together with a collection of Forms and Precedents. By Walter Malins Rose. 1907. 3 vols. Buckram.net 18 00

A large part of the difficulty of federal practice arises from the diverse and unrelated sources where the law must be sought.

This code collects in one harmonious arrangement all the diverse rules and provisions which, taken together, make the law of federal procedure.

For your consideration

A MORTGAGEE purchased at the foreclosure sale through an agent, and the sale was confirmed to him. Prior to the sale the agent had been negotiating with one "B" for the sale of the land. After confirmation the agent completed the sale to "B," and caused the sheriff to execute a deed direct to him, reciting that "B" was the purchaser at the sale. The agent delivered the deed to "B," and received the amount of the bid therefor. After the lapse of more than twenty years, the mortgagee having made no claim that the deed was void, and by his agent having received the purchase money, will an assignment of the bid and purchase be presumed? Will the sheriff's deed be held sufficient to pass all the rights of the original purchaser to the grantee?

Have you answered to your own satisfaction?

Permit us to send you with our compliments a pamphlet on "Conveyance From Husband to Wife," containing the important case of Currier v. Treske, 133 American State Reports, 602, and supplemented by an exhaustive monographic note by Abraham Clark Freeman, "than whom no greater law analyst has ever lived."

REPORTS, DIGESTS, STATUTES, ETC.

AMERICAN SERIES OF SELECTED AND ANNOTATED CASES.

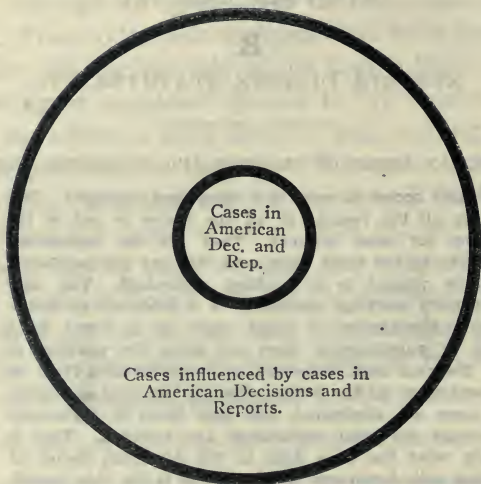

To have access to cases is a recognized necessity. But to have all the reports of all the States is out of the question for most lawyers. They are too expensive; they take up too much room, and they are not necessary. What is wanted is a working equivalent. The only satisfactory working equivalent is a Selection of Cases. A mere abridgment of cases, such as is found in a digest or encyclopedia, does not solve the problem at all. The real need, therefore, is for a selection from all the reports of all the States whereby the local and obsolete cases are eliminated, and only those of permanent value and universal application are retained. This is exactly what has been done in the American Series of Selected and Annotated Cases, and it is for this reason that the leading lawyers and judges throughout the country have for years made it the nucleus of their law libraries.

This series, formerly known as the "Trinity," has been rechristened "Quadrinity," and is now composed of the American Decisions, American Reports, American State Reports and American Annotated Cases. Taken together the four sets constitute a complete unified series of selected cases covering the whole range of American Jurisprudence.

American Decisions.—Cases of general value and authority decided in the courts of the several States, from the earliest issue of the State Reports to the year 1869. Compiled and annotated by John Proffatt and A. C. Freeman. Extra annotated. (Containing 15,826 cases selected from 1628 volumes of the original State Reports.) 100 vols. Also 2 vols. in 1; 50 books. Tan Buckram.

THE LIGHT OF LATER DECISIONS ON EARLY RULING CASES

The cases reported in American Decisions and Reports have been cited in later opinions upwards of half a million times, and in the notes in the leading selected annotated Reports nearly as many times. These NOTES lead you to these later decisions and annotations.

VOLUMES AND PRICE

The "NOTES" will be completed in about 20 volumes. Price, $6.50 per volume, delivered. Volumes 1 to 18 inclusive will be ready before March 1st, 1912, and remaining volumes issued by May 15, 1912.

American Reports.—Containing all decisions of general interest decided in the courts of last resort of the several States, 1869–1886. With notes and references by Isaac Grant Thompson, 1–27, and Irving Browne, 28–60. Extra annotated. (Containing 9,329 cases selected from 1200 volumes of the original State Reports.) 60 vols. Also 2 vols. in 1; 30 books. Tan Buckram.

The American Decisions and Reports, extra annotated, are sold only as one complete set. This edition is an exact reprint of the original editions with the extra annotations bound into the back of each volume. These extra annotations take up each case and analyze it into the various points as to which it has been cited by subsequent decisions. You can thus tell the exact value that each case and each point in the case has at the present day.

The double volume or 2-in-1 edition is designed to save shelf-room. It is in no way a cheaper edition, except that the difference in cost of binding is given to the purchaser.

Notes on American Decisions and American Reports.—Notes on the American Decisions and the American Reports showing how each case in these reports has been applied, developed, strengthened, limited, or in any way affected by later decisions that have cited it as a precedent. Prepared by the editorial department of The Lawyers' Co-operative Publishing Company. 1910; 20 vols. Tan Buckram..... 130 00

These notes are the same as incorporated in the new extra annotated edition of the American Decisions and American Reports, and are essential to all owners of the original editions of these sets.

American State Reports.—Containing the cases of general value and authority subsequent to those contained in the American Decisions and the American Reports, decided in the courts of last resort of the several States. Selected, reported and annotated by A. C. Freeman. (Containing over 20,000 cases selected from over 2300 volumes of the original State Reports.) 140 vols. Write for prices and terms of sale.

Hon. Jonathan Haralson, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Alabama, writes in one of many letters of commendation received from every section of the country:

“From a long use of the American Decisions, American Reports, and American State Reports, I have to say that in my opinion the series, as a whole, has no rival in usefulness to the profession. The cases have been carefully selected with a view of covering the largest number of subjects, and the annotations by Mr. Freeman cannot be too highly recommended as legal classics.

“By a long experience and by natural ability, Mr. Freeman is better equipped for the selection and annotation of cases than any man or group of men of whom I have knowledge. With this series of Reports, the Reports of his own State, and the Reports of the Supreme Court of the United States, a lawyer has a good working library.

“To those not able to buy the entire series I especially recommend the American State Reports, which are in my opinion the best set of annotated reports ever published.”

Digest of American State Reports.—Digest of the decisions of the courts of last resort of the several States, from 1886–1909, contained in the American State Reports, Vols. 1–120 inclusive, and of the notes to the cases reported therein. By Edmund Samson Green. Vols. 1–3 cover 1–96 A. S. R.; Vol. 4 covers 97–120 A. S. R. Vol. 5 covers 121–140 A. S. R. 1904–1911. 5 vols. Sheep.... 30 00

American Annotated Cases, cited Ann. Cas. 1912A (et seq.), containing the cases of general value and authority subsequent to those contained in the American Decisions, American Reports and American State Reports, decided in the courts of last resort of the several states. American Annotated Cases 1912A connects directly without break or duplication with volume 140 American State Reports, and will henceforth continue that set. The royal octavo books contain at least 1400 pages and include about 225 selected cases. Every case is annotated. The amount of matter in each volume is almost double that contained in the preceding series, while the annual cost to the lawyer remains about the same as that of the American State Reports. There will be about five volumes a year, price $5.00 per volume, delivered. The books are bound in modern law buckram.

The Notes or Annotations on California Reports

Following the style of Rose's Notes on U. S. Reports, enables you to determine the exact present value of the California Case in the light of subsequent decisions. It is negligence per se not to have your library equipped with these Notes. You may have your brief or argument upon California Cases that have been distinguished, qualified, modified, limited, disapproved of, or reversed by later cases.

In no other way can you eliminate the uncertainty than by using Notes to California Reports.

A short one for a quick answer

ALTHOUGH there may be a remedy at law in matters of account, yet, if the relief be doubtful or inadequate, will equity entertain the bill, in order the more effectually to give relief generally?

It pays to be sure.

Read the case of Ludlow v. Simond. This leading case, supplemented by a note discussing all the State and Federal cases which have cited Ludlow v. Simond during 105 years is yours for the asking.

Mr. Lawyer---

A BANKING company was incorporated with power to create a capital stock not less than a given sum, nor greater than another sum; it commenced business with the smaller capital, and afterwards it was voted to increase the capital to the larger sum. Are those who held stock in the capital first raised entitled to subscribe for and hold the new stock according to their respective shares?

Not a difficult question at "first blush" is it? But still—well you better read Gray v. Portland Bank, a ruling case.

We will be glad to send you pamphlet on "Stock and Stockholders" containing this leading case in full and supplemented by annotations showing all the State and Federal cases which have cited Gray v. Portland Bank during 104 years.

"UP TO THE MINUTE"

WATER RIGHTS IN THE WESTERN STATES

By Samuel C. Wiel, of the San Francisco Bar.

Do you know

That the United States Supreme Court Reports have been cited over 300,000 times by the Federal Courts and the Courts of Last Resort of the various states?

These citations have had a far-reaching effect on the law. In some instances the weight of this cumulative authority has enormously strengthened the original decisions; in other instances it has modified or even reversed them.

In using any case in the U. S. Supreme Court Reports, it is essential for you to know just how subsequent decisions have treated it.

The JUDICIAL HISTORY of every case in the United States Supreme Court Reports is given in

SUPERIOR COURT
Chambers Dept. 3
JOHN E. RICHARDS
Judge

SAN JOSE, CAL., May 20, 1911.

I have received the two volumes of "Jury's Adjudicated Forms of Pleading and Practice," which have just been issued, and after a careful and critical examination of the work I wish to say that I regard it as one of the most valuable and permanent contributions to the law literature of this and other States which has recently come under my observation. The comparisons of the code sections of California with those of other States will be found especially valuable for reference, while the authorities cited seem to have been collated with a great deal of exactitude and care. I wish to especially commend the method in regard to forms of pleading, which in most cases have been selected from real and adjudicated cases. I have particularly noted those forms which have reference to the assertion of riparian and other water-rights. These will prove invaluable to the practicing lawyer in view of the intricate and increasing litigation over water-rights and of the many new questions which have risen out of our peculiar conditions.

Yours very sincerely,

(Signed) JOHN E. RICHARDS.

December 20, 1910.

BANCROFT-WHITNEY Co.,
200 McAllister St., San Francisco, Cal.

Dear Sirs:

I have had a set of American State Reports in my work room practically ever since I have been a member of the Supreme Court of this State, and I have found them of great value in my work in examining cases and preparing opinions. I seldom write a case but that I have occasion to examine notes in some volume of this set of Reports. The notes to these Reports afford a valuable aid to the busy judge in finding cases, either in point or the most nearly parallel to the one under consideration. They are decidedly a great time-saver.

Very respectfully yours,

J. F. AILSHIE.

Your Attention, please---

THE Proper Judgment in Scire Facias is that the plaintiff have execution of the judgment described in the writ.

But supposing—a judgment that the original judgment be revived and stand in full force and effect as of the date of the rendition thereof, and that the plaintiff have execution against the defendant for such judgment, together with the costs of the original action, and this action, is such judgment improper in form?

—"for I yet not understand the case myself—"

Cymbeline, Act II, Scene III.

To remove all doubts, we will send with our best wishes, if you desire, an exhaustive monographic note by Abraham Clark Freeman, entitled "Scire Facias," and containing a full report of the leading case of Bank of Eau Claire v. Reed, 122 Am. St. Rep. 66.

What members of the California Supreme Court think of Hayne's New Trial and Appeal:

"I am glad to learn that there is to be a new edition of Hayne on New Trial and Appeal. I have always found that work the only satisfactory treatise."

* * * * *

Lucien Shaw

"I am delighted to hear that a new edition of the late Robert Y. Hayne's treatise on New Trial and Appeal is in course of preparation."

* * * * *

Henry A. Wilson

"Judge Hayne's work on New Trial and Appeal has long ranked as one of the very best text books at the command of the profession. It has been almost indispensable to the lawyer practicing in California or in any of the Western Code States. The author's treatment of his subject is scholarly, thorough and exact."

MR. WILLARD M. RICHART,
Southwestern Agent Bancroft-Whitney Co.,
Columbus, Kansas.

Dear Sir:—

Some time ago I purchased from your company through you the American Decisions and American Reports, Extra Annotated. I have had occasion to examine some of the cases and notes pretty fully in some recent brief work. I am particularly impressed with exhaustiveness and accuracy of the Extra Annotations. As an example of this, I had a question of suretyship and found the old case of Ludlow v. Simond (2 Caines' Cases, 1 N. Y.), 2 Am. Dec. Extra Annotated, 291. The note in this case simply covered the whole ground and left no other field to be explored. I have found some more of the notes equally as full, but this particular case impressed me because I needed it very much and needed an exhaustive investigation in a hurry. I am very much pleased with the books.

Very truly,

J. P. O'MEARA.

A nice family question

ARE you thoroughly familiar with the subject of Presumption of Gratuitous Services by Relations? Supposing, for instance, the relationship consists of stepson-in-law and stepmother-in-law. Would this relationship be considered too remote to create the presumption that services rendered were gratuitous? Would the rule requiring stricter proof of a contract between them than in ordinary cases apply?

Keep peace in the family.

See monographic note on this subject following the case of Hardiman's Administrator v. Crick, 133 Am. St. Rep. 248. This note is specially serviceable to country practitioners, who are frequently called upon to advise on the subject. It is in the country that children and dependents more frequently remain with their parents or relatives on a quasi-wage understanding.

We will be pleased to send this note with our compliments on request.

What's the answer?

SUPPOSING the administrator in possession of an estate allows a window to remain out of repair so that the glass falls into the street, injuring travelers. Is he personally liable therefor?

Supposing it is alleged in the complaint that he is administrator and as such in possession of the property. Will that negative his personal liability?

Look it up—look it up.

Let us send you with our compliments a pamphlet on "Administrator's or Executor's Liability to Third Persons for Negligence," with the important case of Bannigan v. Woodbury, 133 Am. St. Rep. 371, reported in full and supplemented by a scholarly monographic note by Abraham Clark Freeman.

After reading this note, with its straight-out mode of dealing with the subject, all doubts as to the nature of the liability should be dispelled.

HON. WILLARD M. RICHART,
Columbus, Kansas.

Dear Sir:—

I have now been using the Trinity Series (American Decisions, American Reports and American State Reports) for about a year, and feel it no less than a duty to advise you that we have found the books highly useful.

You will remember that I hesitated about buying these books a long time because we have in the office the National Reporter System complete, as well as all the United States Reports, Federal Reports and, in addition thereto, some thirty-two States up to the Reporter System.

Actual use of the Trinity set, however, has convinced me that a larger library of books in the usual form is no excuse for not buying this work as a time and labor saver. They will pay for themselves many times each year in any law office that is handling a large business, even though the same is supplied with all the cases published in the usual form.

Yours very truly,

S. H. HARRIS.

Well, then, here's one--- Now be careful

IS it necessary, in a guarantee by a third person, to pay the price of a bill of goods, made in writing at the time of the sale, to express the consideration for the undertaking of the promisor?

Before you commit yourself we will advise you that this question has been decided in Leonard v. Vredenburg, 5 Am. Dec. 317, (the ruling case).

We will take pleasure in sending with our compliments a pamphlet containing this leading case, with an exhaustive monographic note by Abraham Clark Freeman, and containing extra annotations showing the growth and development of the law on "essentials to validity of a contract of guaranty."

You want this pamphlet. Ask for it.

“IN his ability to distinguish apparently conflicting cases, differentiate apparently conflicting principles, to harmonize the facts and the law, the cases and the commentaries, Abraham Clark Freeman has, or has had, no superior.”

Hence the American Decisions, American Reports, and American State Reports are justly considered by the legal profession “rex lex series.”

Strike the KEYNOTES to success by using American Decisions, American Reports, American State Reports and American Annotated Cases.

Can you answer this?

WHERE a corporation refused to permit a stockholder to subscribe for the stock to which he was so entitled, is it liable to an action for damages for such refusal? And, if so, is the measure of damages in such action the excess of the market value above the par value of the number of shares he was entitled to, and does it include interest on such excess?

You prefer not to answer offhand? You would like to look it up?

Well, then, permit us to send you with our compliments a pamphlet on "Stock and Stockholders," containing the case of Gray v. Portland Bank, 3 Am. Dec. 156, (a ruling decision), annotated and extra annotated in the light of subsequent cases which have cited it during 104 years.

May we?

“THE art of succinctly stating in a few lines the full substance of what often makes several pages of redundancy and tautology is a rare one. Abraham Clark Freeman is master of it”—evidenced by his scholarly monographic notes supplementing the leading cases published in American Decisions, American Reports, and American State Reports.

Supreme Court Consultation Room

Jackson, Miss., 2/20 1903

It gives me real pleasure to certify to the very great excellence of "The American Decisions" and "The American State Reports," both as regards the care taken in the selection of cases and the surpassing value of Mr. Freeman's notes. For accuracy, clearness of statement, and fullness of research, I regard these notes as nowhere excelled, if anywhere equalled. I have long regarded Mr. Freeman and Judge Seymour D. Thompson as our ablest living law-analysts.

A. H. WHITFIELD,
Chief Justice Supreme Court, Miss.

What is your opinion?

WHEN are denials on information and belief permissible? Supposing a plaintiff alleges in general terms that he is "the duly appointed, qualified and acting trustee" of the estate of a bankrupt, and in like general terms alleges the filing of the petition in bankruptcy and the adjudication in bankruptcy, will denials by one in no way a party to that proceeding of such allegations for want of information on the subject, be considered sufficient and be admitted in the record.

See monographic note on this subject following the case of Dittemore v. Cable Mining Co., 133 Am. St. Rep. 98. You will find this a very complete and exhaustive monographic note compiled with the same care which has always been bestowed on the notes in American State Reports.

We will send it to you with our compliments on request.

May we?

Consult the Annotations in Am. Dec., Am. Rep., Am. St. Rpts. and Ann. Cas. 1912A. et seq. when you need reliable aid.

You know that fully half of the cases that go to your Supreme Court go there on questions of pleading and practice local to your jurisdiction, or on questions involving local statutes only.

OF WHAT USE ARE THEY to a man practicing in some other state.

No use, absolutely no use. THEN WHY SHOULD HE BUY THEM?

What applies to your State Reports applies with equal force to other states.

WHY SHOULD YOU BUY AND PAY FOR WHAT IS OF NO USE TO YOU?

Let us tell you of a "working equivalent" of the complete set of all the Reports of all the states in which the local and obsolete cases are eliminated and only those of permanent value and universal application are retained.

THE KNOWLEDGE IS WORTH MONEY TO YOU.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., April 23, 1908.

BANCROFT-WHITNEY Co.,
San Francisco, Cal.

Gentlemen:

As to the merits of the reports published by you viz: The American Decisions, American Reports and American State Reports, we have to say that the series as a whole has no rival in usefulness to the profession, and the American State Reports are, in our opinion, the most valuable reports ever published. The cases are well selected and the notes are able and exhaustive. With this entire series, the Reports of the court of last resort of his own State, and the Supreme Court of the United States, a lawyer in general practice may well be said to have all he needs of adjudged cases.

Very truly,

THOS. C. McCLELLAN,
JNO. R. TYSON,
N. D. DENSON,
JNO. C. ANDERSON,
R. T. SIMPSON,
T. R. DOWDELL.

POMEROY'S EQUITY

Comprised of

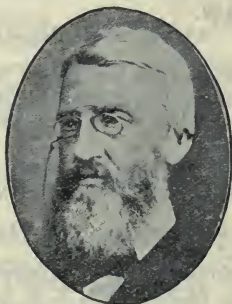

EQUITY JURISPRUDENCE

By JOHN NORTON POMEROY, LL. D.

EQUITABLE REMEDIES

By JOHN NORTON POMEROY, Jr., A.M., LL. B.

The late JOHN NORTON POMEROY, LL.D., author of the original treatise on Equity Jurisprudence.

This work is now in its third edition, recast in four volumes and thoroughly revised and annotated by John Norton Pomeroy, Jr.

The treatise on Equitable Remedies in two volumes, by John Norton Pomeroy, Jr., rounds out the whole work, making it a complete and enduring masterpiece of legal literature.

Judges' Chambers,
San Francisco, California.

August 22, 1911.

BANCROFT-WHITNEY COMPANY,
Law Book Publishers,
San Francisco, Cal.

Dear Sirs:

I have read the proof-sheets of a number of the chapters of Mr. Wiel's forthcoming Third Edition of his work on "Water Rights in the Western States."

It is practically a new work, treating the subject in all its new and different phases. His historical review of the law of "Water Rights" through the civil and common law and his systematic classification of cases and statutes in this country as the development of the law has progress, are of exceptional merit and value; and as the subject is just now of great interest to the public as well as the legal profession, no library should be without this work. The new and difficult questions constantly arising in the West, with respect to water rights, should be considered by the public as well as by the courts in the light of all the reason and conflicting views upon the subject here presented.

Very truly yours,

U. S. Circuit Judge.
